White Heat: Emily Dickinson in 1862

Dartmouth professor Ivy Schweitzer and her students posted weekly blogs in 2018 that, in their words, "aim...to immerse users in a cumulative temporal experience of the atmosphere, networks, and associations for Dickinson's writing around 1862." The posts provide historical, biographical, and literary context for specific poems written and events that occurred in 1862. It's a fun read, and it looks like Dr. Schweitzer will still respond to comments.
